ROMNEY QUILTS RACE

Khe Sanh Air Assault Tops All War History

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Through the still, cold mountain air Marine outposts heard the sound of Soviet-built tanks clanking only a few hundred yards away.

Spotter planes had reported heavy troop movement all day. Marine officers here felt that at last the big battle for Khe Sanh was about to open.

Deep in his command bunker, Col. David E. Lownds called for massive air strikes "up tight," as close to the Marine lines as possible. North Vietnamese assault trenches have reached to within 100 yards of the encircled Marine base at some points.

Air Force B52s and jets together with fighter bombers of the Marines and Navy responded with a massive display of firepower, possibly the biggest single day in an air war campaign the Air Force said has already become the greatest single effort in history.

Night Of Bombs
In all 2.48 million pounds of bombs, rockets and napalm were poured into the North Vietnamese defensive positions around Khe Sanh during last Monday's 24 hours. It included what one Marine called "the night of the bombs."

The sky was filled with rippling flashes as jet after jet dropped their bombs. Some of the strikes were so close to Khe Sanh's perimeter that the heavily sandbagged Marine bunkers jumped convulsively. Marines looked at their bunker's roofs and hoped the supports would hold. None failed.

During that one day, 19 B52s dropped up to 50,000 pounds of bombs apiece in the Khe Sanh area, and 279 smaller jets dropped 1,332,000 pounds of bombs.

The crucial hour of 4 a.m. passed with no attack. Generally major North Vietnamese onslaughts start before this time so they will not be caught in the open during day light.

Quiet Night
The following night was one of the quietest Khe Sanh has known since two North Vietnamese divisions laid siege to the 5,000-man Marine base 14 miles south of the demilitarized zone one month ago.

If the North Vietnamese finally follow up their heavy shelling with determined ground assaults, it is air power that is supposed to give the Marines a needed equalizer during the battle. Marine artillery also has its role, but is probably more than compensated for by enemy siege guns, rockets and mortars.

Since the battle opened in January, more than 1,000 B52s have bombed the area, together with 10,000 individual strikes by smaller bombers.

Three jets have been shot down near Khe Sanh by ground fire.

Fear Air Strike
A major concern now is the threat of a North Vietnamese air strike against Khe Sanh, probably aimed at the base's defensive perimeter to open up a hole for assaulting infantrymen. The Air Force keeps fighters in the area, and Marines are confident that the Air Force will do its best to knock down as many bombers as possible.

"If for no other reason, those jet jockeys will bust their backsides to get credit for a kill (downed plane)," a Marine officer said.

However, it is considered probable that by hugging the mountains and coming through Laos, the Soviet built IL28 bombers could sneak through radar defenses and deliver their punch pretty much intact.

Marsh Control Law Is Signed

LANSING (AP) — A bill clarifying the State Conservation Department's authority to control development of marshlands connecting the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair has been signed into law by Gov. George Romney.

Under the bill those seeking to develop the marshlands are required to submit an application and a $50 fee to the department to allow it to determine if the development would damage the lakes and nearby property. The measure, passed earlier in the legislative session, has immediate effect.

Hart Has Praise For McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was praised today by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who has been somewhat critical of the handling of the Vietnam war.

One of the most discouraging things about the Vietnam problem, Hart said in a speech for the Senate, is that it did not yield to the remarkable mind of McNamara, who is retiring from his post.

"Secretary McNamara possesses a rare combination of grace and intelligence," Hart said. "This, I think, qualifies him as one of the most admirable men on the American scene today — his final day in the Pentagon."

War May Hike Tax Over 10%

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any escalation of U.S. troop strength in Vietnam may reportedly generate an administration call for a tax hike even higher than its 10 per cent surcharge proposal before Congress.

Government officials emphasize they believe the current situation—and they stress current—requires at the very least a 10 per cent surcharge on individual and corporate income taxes. Congress has been cool to the whole idea of hiking taxes and the administration has left the way clear to accept less than the 10 per cent proposal if necessary.

But any major increase in U.S. forces in Vietnam would

Lansing Speculates On Romney Senate Contest

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's Capitol was a study in shock and speculation today following Gov. George Romney's bombshell withdrawal from the Republican presidential race.

And Romney, who provided the shock, did nothing to guide the speculation. His brief announcement Wednesday gave no hint about his future plans. He promised to answer questions Friday morning.

Legislators and other interested politicians could talk of little besides the governor's announcement. At least one Democrat was skeptical about whether Romney meant it.

For Senate?
The varying guesses heard in conversations with lawmakers didn't amount to a consensus of opinion, but these notions were frequently expressed:

—Romney will not resign as governor. "I don't think he's a quitter," one Republican senator said.

—On the other hand, he probably will not seek a fourth term in the executive office in 1970, when his present term expires.

—He may run for the U.S. Senate in 1970, seeking the seat held since 1958 by Democrat Philip Hart. If a Republican is

GOP Governors Can Aid Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican governors might be able to mount a formidable bloc of more than 400 presidential nominating votes for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York if they decide to unite behind him.

If the governors actually do achieve a unity they have not displayed before, they could amass a sizeable chunk of convention votes—mostly from the large industrial states—that might keep former Vice President Richard M. Nixon from sweeping to a bandwagon victory at the Miami Beach, Fla., convention in August.

Nomination requires 667 convention votes.

Romney's decision to pull out seems likely to blunt the effect of what Nixon was counting on as a smashing series of victories in the presidential primaries to establish a new image as a winner.

With the exception of the May 28 Oregon race, where Rockefeller's name might be found on the ballot if he emerges as an active candidate, Nixon will be beating only shadow or write-in candidates. There is no major political profit in that exercise.

If the governors "draft" Rockefeller in a huddle during National Governors Conference sessions underway in Washington, they will count on the New Yorker campaigning actively for the nomination. He has said he is not a candidate but would respond to a draft.

Arts Festival

BIG RAPIDS (AP) — A two-week festival of the arts concludes Sunday at Ferris State College with an afternoon performance by the 80-piece concert band directed by William Root. Donald Sinta, faculty member at Hart College of Music, Hartford, Conn., will be guest saxophone soloist.

Today's Chuckle

The trouble with resisting temptation is that it might never come again.

Rockefeller Still Waiting For Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Romney has quit the Republican presidential race without a ballot cast—and the White House draft that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has promised to answer could be taking shape now.

Rockefeller, most prominent cheerleader in Romney's hectic, fruitless 101-day quest for the GOP presidential nomination, said the wishes of his fellow Republican governors would be a major influence on his future course.

Many of those governors are in Washington today and Romney in withdrawing challenged them to forge a consensus around some other candidate. The Michigan governor acknowledged he has not won rank and file Republican support. He suggested the governors look for another contender who might.

Can't Top Nixon
Romney thus admitted he had no hope of defeating front-running former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the Republican nomination.

Some Republicans were doubtful the governors' agreement Romney recommended could be achieved. But the pressure on Rockefeller clearly was rising. Rockefeller said once again that he is not a candidate for the nomination he has sought twice before, but that he would accept a draft if one came.

"I have no plans to change my plans," he said.

Other Republican moderates were trying to change them for him.

No Rocky Switch
Romney said only he will "support wholeheartedly the candidate for president to whom the Republican governors give their support." So far, those 26 governors haven't given it to anybody.

It was learned that Romney

—who read his withdrawal statement to a crowd of more than 200 reporters and politicians, then would say no more—does not now plan an attempt to transfer his admittedly sparse support to Rockefeller.

Only Rockefeller and John Chafee of Rhode Island among the Republican governors went to persuade Romney not to withdraw.

Would the New York governor enter the race against Nixon if his fellow governors urge that course upon him?

"Let me wait and talk to them," Rockefeller replied.

The New Yorker's emphasis on conferences to ascertain the wishes of his colleagues implied that a substantial bloc of gubernatorial support might meet his terms for candidacy.

Romney's startling withdrawal set off a political shock wave that rolled from New Hampshire's March 12 primary, Nixon said Romney "will play a major role in Michigan and the nation in assuring the Republican victory in November..."

Nixon Strong
We would of course welcome Gov. Rockefeller in the primaries," said Patrick Buchanan, a Nixon spokesman. Buchanan said Romney's withdrawal was testimony to Nixon's strength.

In Washington, where governors gathered for a round of conferences and White House briefings, Robert T. Ellsworth, executive director of the Nixon campaign organization, said the Romney move was a concession in advance, "a great victory for Mr. Nixon."

But it was not an unmitigated blessing for the Nixon forces. Although Romney's name remains on the New Hampshire primary ballot, Nixon's virtually certain victory over a withdrawn rival will not have the impact of a triumph over an active contender.

Primary Meaningless
"Certainly the New Hampshire primary is completely meaningless now," said Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland, a Rockefeller supporter all along. Agnew said he does not think Rockefeller will appear on any primary ballot, with the possible exception of Oregon's on to work for the Romney cause. Chafee wasn't hinting what he will do now, although he said it is possible moderate governors will line up behind Rockefeller.

"Wait": Rockefeller
"In no meeting here do I anticipate that when the meeting's over the governors are going to come out and say 'We united behind X,'" Chafee said.

Rockefeller said he had tried

Decision Stuns

LANSING (AP) — In-sisting that he would have made a great president, Michigan Republican leaders expressed surprise Wednesday at Gov. George Romney's decision to pull out of the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

Even Democrats, many of whom have been sharply critical of Romney's lengthy absence from the state, were more subdued than jubilant in their reaction to the news that Romney had quit the race.

"He would have made a great president, just as he is a great governor," said Republican Lt. Gov. William Milliken, who, along with the members of the governor's staff, watched the announcement in the seclusion of the governor's office.

"Deprives Nation"
"There is no doubt in my mind that his decision was made after a great deal of careful deliberation and that in his judgment his present course represents what he considers to be in the best interests of the nation, this state and the Republican party."

In Grand Rapids, the state's Republican national committeeman, John B. Martin, said, "The withdrawal of Gov. Romney will deprive the nation of a chance to vote for a man of great stature and integrity."

Martin's statement added that, "Those of us who believe in George Romney feel the deepest regret that he has found it wise to take this step."

"I know that his action has been taken in the belief that it will serve the best interest of the Republican party and in the long run the best interest of the nation."

"Very Disappointed"
"Those of us who have worked with the governor for the last five years and know what a tremendous president he'd make are very disappointed," said House Speaker Robert Waldron, a Grosse Pointe Republican.

Waldron, who watched the announcement with Milliken, said there was no bitterness among those present.

"They weren't laughing," he answered when questions were asked of the mood of those watching the announcement.

"The withdrawal of George Romney from the presidential race is the nation's loss," said Republican State Chairman Elly Peterson. "George Romney is a great governor and would have made a great president."

"Surprised": Dzendzel
"I'm surprised at this point that the governor is pulling out due to all the time, money and effort that has been spent," commented Senate Minority Leader Raymond Dzendzel, a Detroit Democrat.

"Hopefully, the governor will be back doing what he was

This snow will be in addition to from one to three inches already on the ground in Huron, Ingham, Clinton, Ionia, Kalamazoo and Berrien counties, as well as a line east-west through Houghton Lake.

Highways in lower Michigan are reported in generally good driving condition by the state Highway Commission. Upper Michigan roads are reported with light snow cover.

Low temperatures tonight should range from five below to three degrees above zero in the northern portion of the Lower Peninsula, with from three to 10 above predicted further south. Highs in the 20s are expected.

In the Upper Peninsula the lows tonight should range from five below to five above zero, while highs today will be from 17 to 24 degrees.

College Builds

HARRISON (AP) — Mid-Michigan Community College, which serves Clare and Gladwin counties, has announced a request for bids by construction companies for building a new two-story building. The planned building is expected to cover 57,000 square feet and include a library, classrooms, assembly areas and offices, as well as a technical-vocational wing. A completion date of early 1969 is predicted. It will be located on old U.S. 27 south of Hartison.

First Major Setback In Life For George Romney

DETROIT (AP) — For once, the power of George Romney's positive thinking failed to get the job done.

Quitting the race for the Republican presidential nomination Wednesday, Romney, 60, said his candidacy didn't get the widespread support he had hoped would spring up among rank-and-file GOP members.

It was the first major setback of his life.

Only a year ago, Romney's popularity ratings in the polls were at their peak in the wake of his successful bid for a third term as Michigan governor.

First Crease
But that was before he thrust himself into the national political arena and began talking about the issues before nation eager to learn more about this aggressive, successful man.

He took a stand on the Vietnam issue, then changed position and blamed the shift on what he called "a brainwash" he said was applied by U.S. military and diplomatic officials in the Southeast Asian nation.

That marked the first crease in the bubble that burst Wednesday.

Always before, Romney was triumphant, his drive and forceful dedication overwhelming all obstacles between him and his main ambitions.

His dark hair frosted with white, his jaw jutting, his strict Mormon principles ever in mind, Romney seemed tangible evidence of his doctrine of rugged individualism.

Even at golf, he played three balls simultaneously and galloped around the course at break of day, even when snow covered the ground, at a heady pace.

The fervor of his devotion to his causes was in keeping with the tone of the man, even to his favorite song, Sigmund Romberg's "Stouthearted Men."

The goals he achieved included constitutional reform in Michigan, a successful tenure as president of American Motors, and three terms — one in progress — as governor of the nation's seventh-largest state.

Klondike Derby:

Limit Event To Boypower Sleds

By DICK OSLUND
Several hundred area Boy Scouts are busily preparing for the 20th annual Klondike Derby to be held March 2 at the Gladstone Ski Club.

"Plans for the derby are nearly complete," said Jack Van Brocklin, chairman, today. The annual event which began in 1949, will include Scouts and leaders from Schoolcraft, Delta, and North Menominee counties.

It's rumored that the "not yet organized Escanaba Electric Sled Association" is trying to convince the Scouts that they should get up to date with 18 horsepower "cast iron" sled outfits instead of the traditional eight boypower wooden models. The Boy Scouts are already up to date I believe, and our good old fashioned boypower sleds are better than any of these new fangled "tin" toboggans."

Our sleds are powered by eight Scouts who don't need to buy or mix any fancy fuels for their engines. A hot dog or two, blended with a cup of cocoa with perhaps a candy bar additive will power our sleds for a whole morning.

Asked to comment, Gary Barton, veteran Scouter and manager of a local power company, replied that the idea of an "electric" sled was right up his alley. "Only thing you need is a long enough extension cord," he pointed out. "Of course, if you can find plenty of currant bushes in the area, you're OK, too!"

Orville Morrison, manager of a local gas company, was quick to state that an "electric" sled would never be as efficient or practical as the one powered by "another fuel," but was not too sure about how to hook a pipe line to a derby sled.

A committee of veteran Scout leaders threatened to organize a committee of "Concerned Scouters for the Preservation of Boy Powered Klondike Derby Sleds" (CSPBYDS) and burn their membership cards if any Scouts show up at the derby with anything but good old fashioned sleds or toboggans.

When the boys do arrive, Saturday at 8:30 a.m., they will encounter five field problems involving skills like map sketching, simple rope lashing, knots, fire building, clothing and equipment for winter hiking, axmanship, simple cooking, signalling, first aid, and physical agility.

Judges will note how well the patrol leaders lead — and how well the Scouts follow. They will award points for skills, teamwork and spirit.

Judges have been recruited from local National Guard personnel, plus Senior Scouts, Explorers, and members of the Order of the Arrow.

Starting at 9:30 a.m., the derby is open to the public. Light refreshments will be available and the clubhouse will be open for shelter. The derby is expected to last about three hours.

The Klondike Derby is one of the district wide programs organized with the help of the Hiawathaland Council which is supported by Delta United Services and independent Scout finance campaigns in outlying areas.

Senate OKs $247 Million For Higher Education

LANSING (AP) — Acting with unusual speed, the Senate Wednesday approved a controversial $247.3 million higher education spending bill—already under heavy fire from irate university officials.

The bill, reported out of committee only last Monday night, was approved 26-9 despite critics' charges that it was a move toward "mass mediocrity" in the state's major colleges and universities.

The first fiscal 1968-69 appropriations measure to emerge from committee in either House, the bill cuts more than $7 million from Gov. George Romney's higher education recommendations.

It would allocate $222.6 million to the state's four-year colleges and universities for operational spending and $24.8 million to junior and community colleges.

The controversy centered around Appropriations Committee attempts to force universities to boost nonresident tuition to narrow the gap between tuition and the portion of the student's education paid by the taxpayer.

The committee argued that the nonresident should pay 75 per cent of the educational cost with the state paying the remainder.

Third Of Young Negroes Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government says nearly one-third of job-age nonwhite youths — the vast bulk of them Negroes — are unemployed in the nation's 20 largest metropolitan areas.

A newly completed Bureau of Labor Statistics breakdown on unemployment shows the jobless rate for all potential nonwhite workers is at least triple that of whites in six of the cities.

It says 32.7 per cent of nonwhites aged 16 to 19 were without work—compared with an 11 per cent jobless rate for white teen-agers in the same 20 metropolitan areas.

The report, based on unemployment last year but believed to accurately reflect current urban employment patterns, appears certain to generate concern as the nation's big cities face another summer of predicted racial violence.

In the St. Louis metropolitan area, the over-all nonwhite unemployment was more than

CW Transport Acquires Olson

WISCONSIN RAPIDS, Wis. (AP)—CW Transport Inc. has acquired the operating assets and franchises of the Olson Transportation Co. of Green Bay for an undisclosed amount of cash and an exchange of shares, a joint statement from the two firms said Wednesday.

The purchase, which would boost CW's annual revenue by $14 million to about $38 million, is subject to approval by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The two Wisconsin-based firms both began in the early 1930s, each with a single truck. The merger would boost CW employment to about 2,000.

Olson Transportation Co. in Escanaba is located at 503 Ludington St. and with the merger will become a part of the CW Transport Inc. operation.

An expansion of the operation here and in the Upper Peninsula region is expected to result, because of the additional direct shipping terminals CW Transport has in seven states.

Olson is located in what was formerly the L. & L. Trucking Co. building, and about eight years ago plans for a relocation of the terminal in Escanaba to a site nearer trunkline highways was being considered.

Chambers Plan U.P. Council To Pool Interests

IRON RIVER—A council of chambers of commerce may be formed as a result of a meeting called Monday by the newly appointed executive vice president of the Iron River Area Chamber of Commerce, Joseph Murell. Original purpose of the meeting was to discuss highways.

Officers and chairmen of several U.P. organizations and chambers discussed need for better highways into the Upper Peninsula and other matters of mutual interest prompted the recognition of the need for coordinated development efforts throughout the U.P.

Marquette Chamber of Commerce executive Jerry Pulliam outlined his ideas for a united U.P. chamber of commerce effort and proposed that an attempt be made to form such an organization. Pulliam moved that this type of association be formed within 30 days with the understanding that at least seven chamber or commerce-type organization approve the adoption of such a plan.

The motion was unanimously adopted and Frank Bourke, Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Escanaba was named temporary chairman.

Under the proposed plan, Pulliam explained, each town's chamber - type organization would have equal representation on the council board. The suggested procedure would have a local chamber of commerce president and the executive manager or secretary be members of the council board of directors.

"No one wants just another organization or a splintering of interest," Pulliam said. "We are all working hard for our communities and there is a great need for cooperation in many fields of endeavor." Matters such as state financed building projects, highways, airports and airline service, the time issue and many other items of peninsula-wide economic interest could be considered by the proposed association.

A meeting to further consider the plan has been set for 10 a.m. Thursday, March 21 at Escanaba.

Copper Unions Refuse To Talk, NLRB Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal government, unsuccessful in efforts to resolve a 32-week-old copper strike through mediation, is resorting to legal action against the 26 unions involved.

The National Labor Relations Board said Wednesday charges would be filed by its Denver regional office, charging the unions with refusing to bargain with Kennecott Copper Corp., one of four major firms being struck by some 60,000 workers in 22 states.

President Johnson, meanwhile, met with governors and congressional members from five states hit by the strike — Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, Montana and Idaho.

Johnson has been urged by some of the companies short on copper because of the strike to invoke the Taft-Hartley Act. This would force the striking employees back to work for a 90-day cooling off period, during which renewed attempts would be made to reach settlement.

The biggest issue is the union's demand for companywide bargaining — which would mean a common contract expiration date for several unions at a firm's facilities, which often are in several states.

The NLRB's Denver office said the charges will be based on the companywide demand at Kennecott. The other companies struck are Anaconda, American Smelting & Refining and Phelps-Dodge.

Other strike-related developments:

—Western Electric Corp., a major copper user, said in New York a union boycott of copper imports might force its layoff of 15,000 workers.

—The Commerce Department kept in effect restriction on the shipment of refined copper to nondefense firms — which has reduced the copper supply for civilian production.

NMU To Seek Corps Contract

MARQUETTE — Northern Michigan University officials Wednesday were authorized to negotiate with the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity for a new Women's Job Corps Center contract covering the period July 1, 1968, through June 30, 1969.

Action was taken by the NMU Board of Control meeting in Marquette.

It followed a tour by board members of the Job Corps training center and housing facilities and a Job Corps progress report.

Northern's Job Corps Center for women is unique—the only such facility on a university campus. Now nearing the end of its second year, the program is training 311 girls at present. Since its start in June, 1966, the center has handled a total of 628 enrollees.

Champion Man Held For Murder: Woman, 23, Died Of Exposure

CHAMPION — Mrs. Ann Marie LaCasse, 23-year-old Champion mother of two who was expecting a third child, probably was alive when she was tossed into a snowbank on the desolate Huron Grade Rd. in Michigamme Township of western Marquette County.

That conclusion appeared obvious today from announcement by Prosecutor Edward A. Quinnell that the autopsy performed Wednesday showed that death was the result of exposure.

Wounds about the head, according to the medical examiner who conducted the autopsy, were not sufficiently serious to cause her death, but were serious enough to produce unconsciousness.

Remains In Jail

Leon Mark Delongchamp, 29-year-old unemployed Champion miner and a distant relative of Mrs. LaCasse's husband, Robert, remained in Marquette County jail today. He was charged with first degree murder in Mrs. LaCasse's death.

His arraignment in Marquette Municipal Court was delayed until he could receive legal advice from a court-appointed attorney, George T. Kendricks.

It is possible that a psychiatric examination will be sought for Delongchamp. If a request for an examination is granted, the preliminary arraignment could be delayed for up to 60 days while the defendant is undergoing tests at Ionia.

State Police officers who took Delongchamp into custody Tuesday night while a search was being conducted for Mrs. LaCasse were continuing their investigation today.

Details Not Released

Details regarding Delongchamp's arrest and of the investigation into the circumstances of Mrs. LaCasse's death were not revealed.

Mrs. LaCasse's two small children, Alan, about 4, and a daughter, Trina, about 2, reportedly identified Delongchamp as the person who visited their home Tuesday, but authorities refused to comment on the report. Quinnell would not elaborate further on Delongchamp's arrest.

Delongchamp, who is being held in the Marquette County jail without bond, is single and has been unemployed since August, officers said. He formerly worked at the Champion mine of the North Range Mining Co. Quinnell said Delongchamp had been doing odd jobs since August.

The autopsy on Mrs. LaCasse was performed Wednesday at St. Luke's Hospital, Marquette. Officials said the woman apparently had not been sexually molested.

Body Found

Mrs. LaCasse's partially clothed body was found shortly before midnight Tuesday lying along a lightly traveled logging camp road about 17 miles northwest of her farm home in western Marquette County. It was about 15 degrees above zero when her body was found by a member of a search party.

Mrs. LaCasse was reported missing at 6:10 p. m. by her husband, who called the Marquette Police Dept., to ask that a check of hospitals be made. Mrs. LaCasse's pregnancy, it was reported, was nearly full-term, and her husband thought she may have been brought to a hospital.

When no trace of the woman was found, State Police Troopers Lloyd Hallman and David Womack were sent to the LaCasse home to investigate. Assisted by relatives and neighbors police checked roads in the area. The body was found by Edward Cardew, Champion, who was assisting in the search.

Teachers' Pay

For the first time militant teachers have struck a state. The strike in Florida is remarkable for its state-wide scope — it has closed the schools to nearly half of the state's 1.2 million elementary and secondary school students — and for its sponsor.

The sponsor is not the American Federation of Teachers, which has always used union muscle in its dealings with schools, but the milder Florida affiliate of the National Education Association, which is the parent group for Upper Michigan's teachers union. The NEA used to favor "sanctions" instead of strikes, it would urge teachers not to seek employment in school systems it couldn't negotiate with successfully.

A year ago the NEA switched and said it would fight, still preferring professional negotiations, but willing to back local or state organizations which struck for salaries and conditions.

The shadow of the Florida strike falls across the nation. The NEA demands are being opposed in other states and they'll be watching to see what happens in Florida, where the strike is in its second week.

Substitute teachers were being pressed into service in the struck schools and the U. S. Court of Appeals refused to interfere with a Florida Court injunction restraining organizers of the statewide teachers strike. Strikers were forbidden to coerce teachers or students to stay out of schools or to picket.

The strike comes as Upper Michigan school administrators and teachers plan their negotiations for 1968-69 contract terms. A victory for the teachers in Florida would stiffen the demands of teachers generally and help to offset the adverse bargaining situation in communities where the public has indicated in millage votes that it doesn't want another heavy round of taxes to pay teacher salary increases.

The situation in Florida is not like that in Michigan. The Florida teachers are not striking for more pay for themselves; they are reported satisfied with the provisions for teacher salary increases made by the Florida Legislature, but dissatisfied with its provisions for improving school conditions. The issue is not pay, but better schools.

The NEA has posted $7,500 as a goal for starting pay for degree teachers. In a rather typical downstate Michigan school district in the Lansing area the board of education went from $5,500 to $6,000 for the 1966-67 school year for beginning pay. (The reader will remember that this is just starting pay and that the increases carry all through the salary schedule.) The district has $7,500 assessed valuation per school child and is levying 30.2 mills for school operation. (Escanaba Area District has more than $11,000 per child and levies 14.7 mills for operation.)

The Michigan Education Association local is asking $7,500 starting pay next fall in the district. It is pushing hard and noting that the MEA locals which used the most muscle in their demands and settled latest got the biggest increases. Michigan MEA locals which settled by June 1 with their school boards averaged $5,700 to $6,100 starting pay. Those which settled by Sept. 1 averaged $6,100 to $6,300. The most militant locals got $6,400 to $6,700.

Boards expect hard bargaining generally this year as the teachers move strongly to jack up their income. The teachers have shown their willingness to shut down a state's education in Florida in the cause of improvement. The public tends to profess a willingness to pay teachers well, but an inability to do so. Industry has solved a similar impasse by jacking up the prices of its products. Government is now in the same wringer, and the taxpayer faces another levy.

Dirksen Is Honored For Public Service

By NOEL GROVE
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The mellifluous and ready wit of Sen. Everett Dirksen literally brought down the house at the luncheon honoring the 100th birthday of the World Almanac, held at the Senate recently.

Luckily, it was a delayed reaction. Some 15 minutes after the observance, at which Dirksen charmed guests with impromptu jokes and jibes, a 15-foot-high backdrop depicting the hardcover cover of the 1968 Almanac fell over when a Senate porter opened a door behind it.

Figuratively, the Illinois senator had a similar effect on the audience of senators, newsmen and other guests in the banquet room just off the Senate floor.

Upon being presented a silver centennial medal by Boyd Lewis, president of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., publishers of the Almanac, for his continued "wisdom and service," Dirksen looked at it and said in mock concern, "We're short on silver, you know."

Finally, with the beribboned medal draped around his neck, the 72-year-old senator, who had limped into the room sporting an ornately carved cane because of a torn ligament in his leg, observed, "When my little granddaughter asks me where I got this

Bridge Opened

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has announced that one southbound lane of the Zilwaukee Bridge on I-75 near Saginaw will be opened to traffic March 1 and the second will open March 8. The department originally had expected both lanes to be opened March 1, but repairs on the concrete bridge deck took longer than was expected.

The drawbridge was damaged last Oct. 5 when it was rammed by a freighter.

New Recruit on the Asian Sea

Lent is for Wild Living.

By DAVID POLING

My hope for Lent this year is based on the desire for an increased spiritual awareness of the problems of humanity in the world about the Church.

Texas, still smarting from being deposed as the Union's largest state, got in a dig for size at the World Almanac luncheon.

Sen. Dirksen, reading samples of reference material from a reprint of the 1868 Almanac, cited the total land area of Alaska (586,400 square miles) which had been bought from Russia a short time before.

Turning to the audience, Dirksen said, "Perhaps the gentlemen from Texas would like to comment on that. Just how big is Texas?"

"267,339 square miles, all unbroken!" boomed Texas Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

New York's 18th District may not have a representative in Congress this session, but it does have one in the Rayburn House Office Building garage.

Holding down a spot there, as it has since owner Adam Clayton Powell left for more agreeable climes, is Powell's dusty but still elegant blue Jaguar sedan.

It's the star of the perfume and polish remover in place of the smoke-filled room in the offices of Rep. Martha Griffiths, D-Mich.

Mrs. Griffiths' entire Washington staff is made up of the fair sex — administrative assistant, appointments secretary, case workers and all.

"It isn't that men can't do the job," said the congresswoman. "After all, some of the other ladies have men for aides."

"If I had an opening on my staff and a man were qualified, I would hire him."

Does that mean she can't find one who is qualified?

"Not at all, it's just that one has never applied and I've never sought one out."

The result is Mrs. Griffiths' all-girl band and, visually, no male visitor to 1536 Longworth House Office Building has cause to complain.

Five No-Trump Counts Kings

When you play Blackwood the follow-up bid of five no-trump asks for kings in the same manner that four no-trump asked for aces. There is one essential difference here. You may well ask for aces when you don't have an ace in your hand with the intention of stopping at five if your partner only holds two of them. Of course, if he only holds one you won't make five odd but you should never use Blackwood if you aren't sure that your side had as many as two aces.

When you ask for kings you are committed to a slam and you only ask to explore grand slam possibilities. Therefore the follow-up five no-trump bid not only asks for kings but tells your partner that your side holds all the aces. Which you bid four no-trump your partner must accept your judgment if you proceed to place the contract. When you follow up with five no-trump he may go to a grand slam on his own initiative.

South was going to show spades if his partner showed one ace in response to the Blackwood four no-trump. When North showed two aces South was tempted to go right to seven on his own hook but there was no guarantee that North would hold both spade and diamond kings. Therefore South continued to five no-trump to find out.

North could have responded six hearts to show that he held two kings but North saw no reason to waste any time. His partner's five no-trump call had guaranteed all the aces. It had also shown interest in a grand slam contract and an addition to this was that South now was interested primarily in kings.

In that case it was a cinch to make South with the queen of spades and either the queen of diamonds or shortage in that suit. At worst it might be necessary to set up the diamond suit for discards.

Actually that wasn't necessary. South drew trumps, discarded one of North's clubs on a good heart and ruffed out his small heart and small

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five diamonds your partner bids four no-trump over your four spades. You bid five hearts and he bids five no-trump. What do you do now?

BUDGET

I feel that I must write this letter to express my opinions on the recent defeat of the school operations millage proposal. There have been several letters published in recent days, which have compared the school budget to a household budget and which have stated that the school board learn to live within its income the same way a family does.

This sounds reasonable but is, in fact, not even a valid comparison. First, and most important, while a family knows how much money it will have to work with, the school board does not. It has to rely on uncertain elections to procure necessary funds.

Second, most of the money requested recently is for operation, not expansion. These are necessary expenditures. When a family cannot pay its necessary expenses it can declare bankruptcy, something that the schools can not do.

Third, a family faced with an unexpected or unpredictable shortage can cut out certain non-essential spending. The school board can not do this either, having already pared expenses to the bone. In any case, many necessary items have to be bought and paid for in advance thus eliminating their being cut from the budget.

It might also be a good idea for the voters of Escanaba to recognize the fact that while money paid in federal and state taxes seldom returns in a beneficial form, that every penny of school tax money is used for the purpose of maintaining the highest educational standards possible right in our area. I would therefore urge the voting public to rethink its position between now and the next election.

The City Drug Store reopened recently in its former location, 1107 Ludington St., with a complete new stock of merchandise and store fixtures. The store was destroyed by fire on Oct. 30 of last year.

Al Brandt, business agent of the Carpenters and Joiners local union, presented a check amounting to $1,050 to William Warmington, treasurer of the Crippled Children Fund. The check represents the gross receipts of the benefit dance sponsored by the union last weekend.

50 Years Ago

An anonymous Escanaba poet wrote the following lines that deal with the many regulations concerning rationing of wheat and meat: On Monday thou shalt eat no wheat, nor have for breakfast any meat. Tuesday is meatless all the day; at evening put the wheat away. Wednesday the wheat shall be taboo; at breakfast meat thou shalt eschew. Thursday, at breakfast touch no meat, and spare, at supper-time, the wheat. Friday is meatless in the morn; at seven sup on rye or corn. The same on Saturday. But hark! — No pork from rosy morn to dark. Sunday, no meat to 'gin the day, nor wheat when falls the evening ray.

MSU Speaker

EAST LANSING (AP)—Former Vietnamese ambassador to the United States, H. E. Vu Van Thai, will discuss "the prospects of political development in South Vietnam" Sunday at Michigan State University. Van Thai now is consultant to the office of the United Nations secretary general.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a male who used to laugh at my wife because she always turned to your column first thing and quoted from it. I'm ashamed to admit I made fun of her—and of you, too. Now I am eating a big chunk of humble pie and it serves me right. I need your help.

Our daughter is nine years old and small for her age. Yesterday as she was going from her bedroom to the bathroom I noticed she was wearing a bra. I did a double take—couldn't believe it. That kid doesn't have anything to put in a bra and the whole idea is ludicrous.

I went downstairs and asked my wife what it was all about. "Oh," she replied, "Harriet's best girl friend has started to wear a bra and she feels very left out. I bought her one for emotional support."

I told my wife I thought she was cuckoo. She told me to mind my own business. I said I was going to write to Ann Landers. She replied, "Go ahead, Ann will be on my side." How about it? Where do you stand?—GOGGLE-EYED

Dear Gog: Not with a nine-year old flat-chested kid and her cuckoo mother. The way to give pre-adolescent girls emotional support is to help them enjoy being nine years old. They should be taught to wait for adult accessories until the time is right. A brassiere can be a symbol of other things and in this instance the symbolism is all too clear.

Dear Ann Landers: I just read the letter from the soon-to-be-married girl wanting to know if she should confess all in regard to her past. She wanted to enter her marriage "with a clear conscience." You advised her to volunteer nothing and if he asks tell him, "Take me as I am or not at all."

That was excellent advice and I hope she listens. Too bad you weren't writing your column 16 years ago. May I say a word to every conscience-stricken girl who wishes to unburden herself:

Keep your silly mouth shut—unless you are willing to pay for it for the rest of your life. I married a rigid, unbending puritan after confessing an indiscretion which occurred when I was 16. We have been married 14 years and not a single day passes that he doesn't remind me that I was a tramp when he married me. Every time I look at a man he accuses me of something rotten. "If you did it once, you'd do it again." He has made me feel totally inadequate as a love partner and I have become completely passive in order to protect myself against future accusations. I don't dare show any enthusiasm for his love-making because he wants to know where I learned "that trick."

Two years ago I discovered the Great White Knight had fallen from his horse. I caught him having an affair with a woman at work. His defense was, "I am entitled to do as I please because you did."

Please, Ann Landers, continue to advise girls to keep their lips buttoned if they want to have a happy married life. Telling everything one knows is not a sign of honesty. It's a sign of stupidity.—SORRY

Dear Sorry: Thank you for your letter. The last two sentences are gems. Are you listening, students?

Confidential to I'm For You. Peachy: You are right. Too clean is as sick as too sloppy. Moderation makes the best sense. If I had to settle for one extreme or the other, I'd sooner live with someone who is too clean.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Potato Acreage Slash Asked

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has recommended that Michigan Potato growers plant the same acreage of late summer potatoes this year as in 1967, but cut fall plantings by one per cent.

The recommended acreage for late summer plantings is 11,300 acres, and 34,700 acres for fall plantings.

USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service made the recommendations, which will soon be available from state and county agricultural extension service offices in potato producing areas. The guides are developed to help growers plan production to meet marketing needs.

Nationally, USDA has recommended that growers of early summer and fall crop potatoes plant 5 per cent less acreage than they did last year, and that late summer plantings be reduced 4 per cent. Total 1968 potato planting recommended by C&MS, for winter, spring, summer, and fall crops is 4 per cent less than in 1967.

Eligible Ladies Not Man Chasing This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Single men who dream of being pursued and caught by a rich, famous, beautiful and talented woman this Leap Year might just as well wake up.

At least eight American women who largely answer to this description not only are not going to do any man chasing, they don't intend to be caught. Not this year anyway.

Though the current demand for single men is much more than the supply it takes more than mere eligibility to attract the likes of Joey Heatherton, Lesley Gore, Inger Stevens, Patricia McBride, Hedda MacRae, Marlo Thomas, Cathy MacCauley, or Trenny Robb.

Love Helps
Indeed, most are quite happy to be single for the present, though "it helps to be in love," says Hedda MacRae, daughter of stage and screen stars Sheila and Gordon MacRae.

"Marriage is a ridiculous tribal rite," says 21-year old Cathy MacCauley, Corn Products heiress, party giver and pop celebrity. Besides she does not like children, "only flower children," she says.

Though most of the celebrated single girls are too busy with their careers to consider marriage at the moment, they like men with masculinity, strength, a sense of humor, respect for women and high intelligence as the eventual life partner.

Neither looks for money figures in their ideal man.

Too Much Fun
"He can take me to inexpensive places, I don't care," said Trenny Robb, who won fame overnight as a fashion model after wowing Washington at the wedding of her brother Charles to Lynda Bird Johnson. Right now she is having too much fun to consider being Mrs. anyone.

"A sense of adventure," is high among the requisites for Marlo Thomas, daughter of comedian Danny Thomas and a television star in her own right. She also hopes to find a man some day who has the same respect for talented women which her father has.

Lesley Gore, rock 'n' roll singer, senior at Sarah Lawrence College and president of the Bachelorettes Club, is an old-fashioned girl who wants to be pursued, not the pursuer. Though she hopes to be married eventually she is suspicious of the "so-called holy deadlock."

Unhappiness
"I see so much of marriage breakups and unhappiness," she says. "I have a fear of it."

Asked who they thought were today's most interesting men, the young celebrities gave Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., the most votes with others going to Paul Newman, Tony Bennett, Warren Beatty, Dean Martin, McGeorge Bundy, George Balanchine, Sen. Everett Dirksen,

Presbyterian
Women Hold
February Meet

The Women's Association of the First United Presbyterian Church held its February meeting Tuesday, Feb. 27. Mrs. Robert Meyer, president, presided and conducted the devotional service.

Mrs. Peter Zimmer, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Chief of Police Richard Frederick, who spoke on Juvenile Delinquency.

Chief Frederick stressed the parents' responsibility in dealing with the problem and urged all parents and citizens to follow three rules in dealing with juveniles.

First, teach them right from wrong. Second, set a good example for them and third, remove temptations from their way.

The Chief cited the well known quote, "families that pray together stay together," and added that families should also plan together and play together.

Hostesses for the day, were members of Circle 2 with Mrs. Jack Sprague, chairman.

R-III., and Mike Nichols—men who were, in some cases, two or three times older than the young women casting the ballots.

But as Patricia McBride, ballerina for the New York City Ballet Company, put it, "These are men we can admire, which is different from being physically attracted to them."

Girl Scouters Plan Party And Outing

Cadet Girl Scout troops 24 and 2 met recently at the Junior High School to plan for a Girl Scout Week party and outing.

New officers elected were: Mary Destrampe, Vicky Derouin, Luanne Young, Bonnie Benoit, Debbie O'Donnell, Jackie Destrampe, Debbie Savard, Peggy Benoit and Carla Kimmel. A gesture of appreciation was extended to the outgoing officers.

The troops will meet Monday, March 4 to finalize plans for a trip to Pine Mountain and members are to turn in their permission slips to the leaders at this meeting. Leaders are Mrs. Sue Chamberlain, troop 2 and Mrs. Arlene Ryan, troop 24.

College Goal For All Is Oversold, Congress Is Told

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The dream of a college education for all young Americans, so dear to the hearts of parents and politicians, is being called into serious question on Capitol Hill.
The charge has been made in Congress that the four of every five American youths who now fail to complete college are victims of a national obsession with the goal of a college education for everyone.
Even in the academic world itself it has been argued that educators have oversold the idea of a college education as the key to success.
A better goal for a national education policy, said these critics, is some sort of vocational education for all—some preparation for choosing, getting and holding a decent job. A college education may be a good way for some to get such preparation, they say but it's not the only way.

1 In 5 Graduates
Yet in a nation where only one youth in five graduates from college, the federal government contributes nearly three times as much money to support higher education than vocational education. And the total has remained fairly level for three years in vocational education while rising rapidly for higher education.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., one of the strongest advocates of better vocational education, estimates 90 per cent of those who come into the job market without a college degree have never learned a marketable skill.
The bitter fruits of this policy, he says, are staggering rates of unemployment among young people and the $1 billion a year the government spends on work-training programs to rehabilitate them.

Job Training
The framework for a national policy of universal vocational education has been prepared by a special advisory council appointed by John W. Gardner, secretary of health, education and welfare.
It suggests occupational preparation begin in elementary school with "a realistic picture of the world of work" In junior high school, it says, all students study the economic and industrial system to become acquainted with the range of job choices available.

Specific job training should be given in high school to all students not planning to go to college. And two years of post-secondary school training in advanced skills should be offered free as part of the education system.

$15 Million Asked
The council recommends that meanwhile, existing programs should be greatly expanded and federal expenditures increased from the present $250 million a year to $1.5 billion.

The administration has accepted some of these proposed remedies but its response to the suggested increase in spending was to ask for another $15 million to fund pilot programs in the states.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., presiding over current hearings on the administration request, bluntly told the witnesses it was not enough. "This is just a start," he said. "The goal must be legislation which provides an education for meaningful work and full employability."

2-Year Schools Need More Aid

LANSING (AP)—The number of students in Michigan colleges and universities has increased more than 76 per cent in the past five years, the State Board of Education reports.

Community college enrollments will grow the fastest and these institutions in particular need added aid, the board said.

The board said the number of students in Michigan's community colleges and public four-year institutions jumped from 153,600 to 269,000 during the five-year period.

The board noted the increase in its report to the Legislature on the financial needs of the higher education institutions.

It attributed the jump to:
—Greater numbers of college-age people in society.

—A greater proportion of high school students continuing their education.

More adults seeking additional education and more students obtaining advanced degrees.

The board said the state's colleges and universities are asking the Legislature for $270.9 million in operating funds for the next fiscal year compared to the current legislative appropriation of $104.6 million.

The report predicted that community college enrollments will grow faster than those in other parts of higher education largely because of the state's efforts to make such institutions geographically available to all the people of the state.

Bark River Card Party

The card party held Saturday night in the Legion Clubrooms, sponsored by the Rheume - Knauf American Legion Auxiliary was successful. The special prize was awarded to Philip Norman and Mrs. Dan Levesque was presented the door prize. The committee in charge included the Mesdames Frank Adams, Kenneth Taylor, Lloyd Bruce, Martin Kwarciay, John Moniowczak and Edward Motto.

Bridge Building Halted By Court

MIDLAND (AP) — A Homer Township couple has obtained a preliminary circuit court order against the Fisher Contracting Co. and the city of Midland, prohibiting them from building a temporary bridge across the Chippewa River.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson Arbury obtained the injunction from Circuit Judge Robert H. Campbell of Clare. A show cause hearing was set for 1:30 p.m. Friday in Midland.

The couple says the bridge will interfere with floating ice down the river and this would flood their land and other lowland areas. They also seek damages that may be caused if a bridge is built. Partial construction has already begun.

State Planning Splits U.P. Into Four Units

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has told state department heads to adopt a planning system which divides Michigan into 14 official planning and development regions, the executive office said today.

The 14 groups of counties, designed to reflect natural physical, social and economic groupings in the state, are to serve as units for state planning and federal programs.

Romney's office said the governor had issued an executive directive telling the heads of the state's principal departments to recognize the 14 areas to modify existing programs to conform with their boundaries.
"By taking this important administrative step, we can help eliminate considerable bureaucratic confusion and replace it with a more effective job of planning basic public programs at the local level," Romney said.

He said many existing programs use a variety of county groupings, and areas used as the basis for state and federal efforts often overlap and conflict.

Four of the 14 new regions are in the Upper Peninsula. The most populous is a seven-county area in Southeast Michigan.

Counties included in the new regions are:
1. Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, St. Clair, Monroe, Livingston and Washtenaw.

2. Jackson, Hillsdale and Lenawee.
3. Ingham, Eaton and Clinton.
4. Barry, Kalamazoo, Calhoun, St. Joseph and Branch.
5. Van Buren, Berrien.
6. Shiawassee, Lapeer and Genesee.
7. Allegan, Ottawa, Kent, Muskegon, Ionia, Montcalm, Mecosta, Newaygo, Oceana, Mason, Lake, and Osceola.
8. Roscommon, Ogemaw, Iosco, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac, Bay, Isabella, Midland, Gratiot, Saginaw, Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron.
9. Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Crawford, Oscoda and Alcona.

10. Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim, Kalkaska, Missaukee, Wexford, Manistee, Benzie, Grand Traverse and Leelanau.

DO-IT-YOURSELF DIETS DANGEROUS
Every day we come in contact with the ever increasing challenge to do-it-ourselves. In hobbies and little repairs on the house and family car, the do-it-yourselfer really shines. Not only is it mentally stimulating, it also gives a certain amount of pride in doing a job well. However, the American Medical Association reports an alarming increase in do-it-yourself diet faddists.

The person who tries to reduce blood fat and cholesterol by a do-it-yourself diet is courting danger.
This is a direct quote from the AMA: "Dieters who believe they can cut down their blood cholesterol without medical supervision are in for a rude awakening. It can't be done. It could even be dangerous to try."
There is positively no danger, however, that you won't be delighted with our prescription service at GROOS DRUG STORE . . . 1007 Ludington St. Phone ST 6-3552. Prescription Delivery . . . Crutches . . . Wheel Chairs for rent or sale.

GLADSTONE Old Ice House To Be Removed

The last remaining evidence of a fishing enterprise begun by the late Fred Holmberg in 1890 will soon disappear when his son, George Holmberg, 1330 Lake Shore Dr., has the ice house removed from city-owned property near the Yacht Club.

The Planning Commission recommended that the City Commission ask to have the building removed since it has not been in use for many years. Holmberg says he believes it can be sold and moved to another location.

Holmberg said he began his career as a commercial fisherman with his father when he was 18 years old. In 1915, he began working for Marble Arms, 60 hours a week for $7.50, and saved enough to purchase a net to get started. The net cost $140, but he soon was making as much as $74 per week as they often brought in a ton of walleyes for a night's work.

The old ice house was built by the Holmbergs in 1915 and was designed to store ice cut from the bay for use in cooling and packaging the fish before shipping to Chicago markets.

The late John Young, who sold his ice cutting operations to Gus Lierman, cut the 24 by 48 chunks from the bay somewhere in the vicinity of the Disposal plant.

Holmberg said they could store about 200 chunks in the building and still have room for packaging. He said the ice was thoroughly covered with sawdust, some of which still remains on the floor, and this would last through the summer months and until cold weather arrived and the process began all over again.

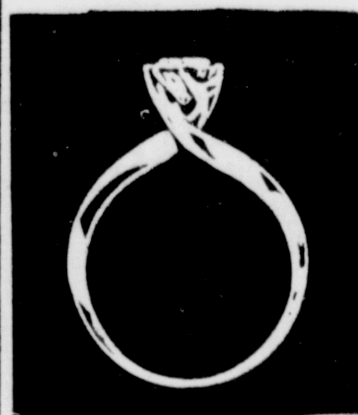

However, after the building on the harbor originally used for storing nets, ropes and other equipment, was destroyed in the Armistice Day storm in 1941, the old ice house was changed for storage purposes.

Now, Holmberg will be faced with the problem of finding a place to put the nets, ropes and other moments of his fishing career begun in 1915 and ended in 1962.

The males of some species of moths and butterflies gather in swarms around mud puddles to sip water. After spending several days in such a "drinking society," the males often go looking for mates.

Tarheel Win Streak Cut By Gamecocks

By The Associated Press
Wouldn't it be something if unranked South Carolina won the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball championship and then was left waiting in the cold outside the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament all because it was placed on probation in 1967 for recruiting violations.

In the NCAA are such powers

O'Brien Leads Elks Tourney

MANISTIQUE — The Elks Upper Peninsula Bowling Tournament went into its third week with a new leader in the singles event, Fred Breitenbach of Escanaba took the lead with a 663, second place, Bill Hentschell of Manistique with 652, and third place D. O'Brien of Manistique with 647.

In the team events, Roys Standard and the Ethiopians of Manistique are still tied for the lead with 2916; Lynn Auto of Manistique moved into second place with 2839; and Stonehouse of Escanaba is in third place with 2836.

The doubles found no changes with D. O'Brien and W. Deloria of Manistique still in first place with 1251; W. Graff and R. Schwichow in second place with 1245; and G. Laitenen and R. Anderson of Negaunee in third place with 1216.

In the all events D. O'Brien of Manistique leads with 1949. W. Hentschell of Manistique in second place with 1851 and F. Breitenbach of Escanaba in third place with 1826.

Negaunee Cage Deadline Set

NEGAUNEE—The Negaunee Invitational basketball tournament has 31 teams signed up for the annual event.

Tournament officials have extended the deadline for entering until March 4 and teams interested should write or call Roland Koski, 217 E. Clark St. (GR 5-4095) for entry blanks.

The latest teams to enter include the Marquette Pharmacy, Tech Chronics, Baraga Martin Oil, Ishpeming Jaycees, Trenary Herb's Bar and L'Anse Specialty.

as third ranked North Carolina, whose 20 game winning streak was snapped by South Carolina Wednesday night in an 87-86 upset, and tenth ranked Duke, dumped by South Carolina five days ago 56-50.

When South Carolina was spanked by the NCAA and banned from post-season tournaments or bowl games the suspension was to continue to January of 1969 but officials said the probation might be lifted before then. So far there are no indications this might be done.

But the victories over North Carolina and Duke are a feather in the cap of Coach Frank McGuire and make the gamecocks a factor to be reckoned with in the NCAA tournament next week.

North Carolina is the runaway leader in the conference, but the tournament decides the NCAA bid.

Bob Cremins, a 150-pound 6-foot-3 sophomore from New York City, paced the Gamecocks with a career high of 23 points and 15 rebounds.

Down 46-33 at the half, South Carolina rallied to go ahead by nine points, then held off the Tar Heels' late surge led by Larry Miller with 26 points.

Duke, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to play, rebounded from its South Carolina defeat to whip North Carolina State 71-61 at Raleigh. Mike Lewis led the Blue Devils with 29 points and 18 rebounds.

Calvin Murphy, Niagara's 5-10 soph star, the No. 2 scorer in the nation, was held to his college low of 15 points as the Purple Eagles lost in overtime at home to Syracuse 50-49.

Long Island, the No. 1 small college team in the AP poll, and St. Peter's, N.J., each accepted invitations to the National Invitation Tournament, upping the NIT field to seven with seven selections still to come.

The announcement was made at halftime of the Long Island-St. Peter's game in Jersey City, N.J. St. Peter's then went on to hand Long Island its first defeat of the season 70-59, ending a 20-game winning streak.

Griffith Ready For Title Bout

KIAMESHA LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Emile Griffith says he's in great shape. One look at him in action is enough to convince anyone that he's not kidding.

Showgirls hate him when they see his narrow waist. Musclemen turn green with envy when they look at his broad shoulders and bulging biceps.

The boxing program tale of the tape says his waist is 28 inches.

"It's 26 1/2 inches right now and I've never felt better," said Griffith, who defends his world middleweight title against Italy's Nino Benvenuti at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

This will be Griffith's third title fight with Benvenuti. Griffith lost his crown to the tall, stylish Italian last April and regained it in September.

In the second fight on the doubleheader title card, Joe Frazier of Philadelphia and Buster Mathis of Grand Rapids, Mich., a couple of young, undefeated fighters, will meet for a piece of the world heavyweight title.

New York and Massachusetts will recognize the winner as champion.

Griffith is a 7-5 favorite while Frazier is a 2-1 choice. Both favorites are training here at the Concord Hotel and they have formed a mutual admiration society.

Colorado Rally Gains Victory

EAST LANSING (AP) — Colorado came back from an early first period deficit of 2-0 to hand Michigan State a 4-2 defeat in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game Wednesday night.

Spartan Dick Bois scored the first MSU goal on a fluke shot tipped into the Colorado nets by an unidentified Colorado player. MSU's Chuck Phillips added a second tally.

Colorado's Doug King and Doug Clark then scored back-to-back goals two minutes apart to knot the score at 2-2 at the end of the first period.

Colorado's Chuck Reinking scored at 5:24 of the second, when MSU was a man short. Jim Hawkins rounded out the scoring with a goal early in the third period.

It was the last league game for MSU, which has a WCHA record of 6-13-1 and an overall mark of 10-14-2. Colorado has two more league games, both against Michigan at Ann Arbor this weekend. Colorado's WCHA slate is 4-14, with a 9-17 record overall.

Stanley May Get Chance To Field Infield Spots

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Mickey Stanley, considered as fine a defensive outfielder as any in baseball, may get a chance to put his fielding talent to practical use at several positions this year.

Manager Mayo Smith of the Detroit Tigers has had the versatile Grand Rapids native working out at shortstop for the past several days.

"I'm going to try him as a catcher, too," Smith said Wednesday. "Stanley is a fine athlete. I think he could adapt to most any position."

"There aren't too many players around any more that can play several positions," added Smith. "A player like Stanley is a valuable asset."

"I asked him if he ever had caught before," laughed Smith, "and he told me he didn't even know how to put on the catcher's equipment. But I think he'll be okay."

Stanley, who had his troubles at the plate last year when he batted .210 in 333 trips, divided his time between the outfield and first base last year.

Wally Moses, Detroit's batting coach, said Stanley is showing considerable improvement at the plate in spring training. He slammed out several long drives during batting practice Tuesday and Wednesday.

Several players suffered reaction from influenza vaccine shots administered Tuesday but no one missed the three-hour workout.

"I was sick all night," said rookie Tom Matchick, who is trying to win an infield job with the Tigers. "I lost five pounds."

Willie Horton, who underwent surgery last fall for an injured Achilles tendon which kept him out of 40 games in 1967, led the batting assault.

"Willie's really ripping that ball," observed Smith.

The Tigers announced scheduling of a B game with the Cincinnati Reds at nearby Tampa March 28. The Tigers have 30 exhibition games on tap for the front line players beginning March 8 against Oakland at Bradenton, Fla.

But a club spokesman said the team is trying to schedule several more B games for the second line players.

Blues Gain Tie On Moore Rally

By The Associated Press

Dickie Moore went through enough Montreal rallies in 11 great National Hockey League seasons with the Canadiens to know how they get started.

Moore, who now earns his salary with St. Louis in the NHL's expansion West Division, carried over his knowledge to Wednesday night.

It was Moore's third period goal that started a three-goal spurt for the fired up Blues and earned them a 3-3 tie with the Canadiens.

In other games, rookie Bob Schumatz' first NHL goal gave Chicago a 1-0 victory over Toronto and Oakland easily bested Minnesota 6-3 on the West Coast. Moore, attempting a comeback with the Blues, scored his fourth goal of the season four minutes into the third period.

And 9 minutes later, St. Louis had its tie with Red Berenson, another ex-Canadian, and Frank St. Marcelle scoring.

Yvan Cournoyer had done the early damage for Montreal with a pair of first period goals and Gilles Tremblay had made it 3-0 in the second period.

Goalie Denis DeJordy was brilliant in gaining his fourth shutout for Chicago.

He stopped 38 shots and slid out on his stomach to thwart Toronto's Frank Mahovlich on a third period breakaway.

Schumatz, called up last week, scored the game's only goal in the first period with Dennis Hull assisting.

Centers Bill Harris and Tex Hampton each scored twice as red-hot Oakland, last in the West Division, ran up a 6-0 lead before Minnesota scored midway through the final period. It was the fifth triumph in seven games with one tie for the Seals.

Injured Warrior Five Drops Tilt

By The Associated Press

Things are going so badly for the crippled San Francisco Warriors that they're even getting hurt by their club's ailments.

The Warriors, with three players sidelined by injuries, bowed to Boston 135-110 in a National Basketball Association game Wednesday night. In the only other NBA game, New York squeezed past Baltimore 126-122.

In the American Basketball Association, Jimmy Ray led Indiana's double overtime 122-116 victory over Oakland.

John Havlicek, who started for the Celtics because Sam Jones came down with the flu, poured in a first half club record 30 points and finished with 41 as Boston battered the Warriors.

Jones held the old Boston one-half record with 29 points.

The Warriors were without Rudy LaRusso, Jim King and Joe Ellis. LaRusso and Ellis have leg injuries and King has an aggravated groin injury.

Jeff Mullins led San Francisco with 26 points.

Dick Barnett scored five points in the final minute as the Knicks came back to beat Baltimore.

The Bulls, led by Earl Monroe's 40 points, had wiped out a 14-point deficit and took the lead with 2 1/2 minutes to play. Then Barnett and Walt Frazier helped New York put it out.

Willis Reed canned 28 points for the Knicks, who shot a torrid 60 per cent in the first half and won their 10th game in the last 12. Barnett finished with 24.

Ray led half of his 18 points in the second overtime as Indiana outlasted Oakland.

Fred Lewis led the Pacers with 30 points and Ron Franz had 29 for Oakland.

Ouimette Paces Great Northern

Miller Loses Scoring Lead

Brian Ouimette, 6 foot 3 inch senior from Iron Mountain, has taken over the scoring leadership in the Great Northern conference. He replaces Menominee's Pat Miller.

Ouimette has a total of 150 points in 5 games for a 30 point per game average. Miller has a 143 points in 6 games for 23.8 points per game. Tim eKarney, a 6 foot 1 inch senior at Kingsford, currently in third place, is the only player with a chance to catch Ouimette. He plays against Escanaba Holy Name on Friday.

Ouimette leads in field goal accuracy with 46 out of 86 attempts for .535 percentage. Teammate Rudy Steiner is second at .527.

Miller continued his dominance in the rebounding department with a total of 81 rebounds to John Moberg of Escanaba's 73. Holy Name's Terry Dufour moved into third place and needs 18 rebounds Friday to tie Miller.

Jim Olsen of Escanaba leads in free throw percentage. He has a total of 13 of 15 attempts for .867 percentage.

Dave Haglund from Menominee leads in assists with 31. The Escanaba Eskymos jayvee team won the conference with a 5-1 record.

Bantams Win At Gladstone

The Escanaba Bantams defeated Gladstone at Gladstone, 5-3, Wednesday night. Escanaba goals were scored by John Noblet, who had two, Dave Anthony, and Gary Provo who had one apiece. Mark Trotter scored twice for Gladstone.

In the second game Gladstone downed the Escanaba Juveniles, 6-3, behind Harlen Couillard's two goals. Escanaba's goals came on shots by Dennis Lancoeur, Gary Provo, and John Pratt.

Lion Brass Deny Schmidt Accusal

DETROIT (AP) — A sports-caster's statement that Detroit Lions' head coach Joe Schmidt offered to resign unless allowed final word in player acquisitions and draft choices was denied Wednesday by Lions' front office personnel.

Sports-caster Al Ackerman, of WWJ Detroit, said Schmidt is displeased with his new role as head coach because his contract assured him of having the final word on acquisitions and draft choices, but that, in fact, this wasn't the case.

Ackerman said Schmidt is unhappy about not being able to acquire a top notch quarterback before the start of the 1968 season — namely Gary Cuozzo, then quarterback of the New Orleans Saints, or Bill Munson of the Los Angeles Rams, backup man to Roman Gabriel.

According to Ackerman, Russ Thomas, general manager of the Lions, said there will always be a conflict between the head coach of a football team and the management.

But, said Ackerman, Schmidt wants his way and is not getting it.

Lyall Smith, public relations director of the Lions, said such a conflict is denied by Schmidt, owner William Clay Ford and Thomas.

"Joe never came to us and said 'I don't get this trade I'm going to quit,'" Smith said.

Schmidt, former all-pro line-backer and captain of the Lions, took over as head coach last year when Harry Gilmer was fired after two losing seasons. Gilmer, now a backfield coach with the St. Louis Cardinals, served two years of a three-year contract and was continually criticized for his handling of the club.

Ackerman said Schmidt is also displeased with the team's first round draft choice, quarterback Greg Landry of Massachusetts. Landry was considered a prospect who might take over the Lions' quarterbacking duties in about three years.

Schmidt reportedly thought it would be better to use him in a trade in order to acquire a more experienced signal caller.

The sports-caster also said Schmidt does not want to start the 1968 football season with either Milt Plum, Karl Sweetan, or Landry at the helm.

Detroit finished the 1967 National Football League season in third place in the four-team Central Division of the Western Conference. The Lions' record was 5-7-2.

Albion Downed On Late Shots

ADRIAN (AP) — Al Werbach made a 20-foot jump shot and Vince Giles added two foul shots in the overtime period to give Adrian College a 76-74 victory over Albion College in a Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association basketball game Wednesday.

It was Adrian's fifth victory in as many overtime contests for the year.

Tied 72-68 at the end of regulation play, Adrian took a four-point lead in the overtime period. Albion's Craig Georgeff then hit a 35-foot jump shot at the buzzer to end the scoring.

Giles was top scorer for Adrian with 27 points. Adrian now has a 11-9 season's mark and is 5-6 in league play.

Harry Turney had 20 points for Albion, which has a 10-10 overall mark and is 5-6 in league play.

Cuba Says U.S. Threatened Ship

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Cuban government charged today that U. S. Coast Guard vessels pointed cannons and used "a warlike maneuver" to interfere when a Cuban ship rammed a lifeboat in which three "traitor crewmen" were fleeing following a mutiny off the Virginia coast.

Radio Havana, in a broadcast monitored in Miami, carried a declaration from the Fidel Castro government's Foreign Ministry.

The declaration ended with a "most energetic protest against this new imperialistic Yankee aggression to grasp and protect this pirate-like action that violates the principles of freedom of the seas and international laws."

The ramming incident occurred Tuesday off the Virginia coast.

Radio Havana, voicing the official government line on the incident, said three crewmen of the 530-ton Cuban vessel 26 de Julio en route to Canada took the captain and crewmen by surprise to seize the ship and change its course toward Norfolk, Va. The report said the captain and crewmen were locked up aboard the vessel.

Major Setback Is First For Romney

Perhaps his energetic determination was never more apparent than it was decades ago when he was pursuing Lenore LaFaut, who eventually became his wife and bore him four children, all of them now grown.

In those courtship days, Miss LaFaut occasionally dated other young men, but Romney would tag along uninvited. At movies he would sit behind her and her escort and loudly munch popcorn to remind them of his presence.

Romney, like his wife, is of the Mormon faith, which played a part in the location of his birthplace.

Throughout his life, the Mormon tenets have played a firm part in Romney's activities. He spends Sundays at rest, refusing to discuss political or government matters—the Sunday television appearances during his presidential nomination campaign had been taped in advance.

He drinks no liquor, coffee or tea and he abstains from all forms of tobacco because of Mormon beliefs that forbid members of the church from using stimulants.

Such abstinence, plus vigorous and regular exercise, have helped keep Romney a trim and athletic 5-foot-11, 175 pounds.

He got into the presidential race determined to make the United States a nation "worthy of God's blessing." He got out saying, "I've concluded that I can best serve my country and the ideas in which I believe other than as a candidate."

Decision Stuns Michigan GOP

elected for—taking care of the affairs of Michigan."

One Democrat, however, wasn't so sure Romney was finished as a candidate for the nomination.

"Anything can happen between now and the national Republican convention—or at the convention," said House Minority Leader William Ryan of Detroit.

Demo Barbs

"These things have happened before, he may be living to fight another day—another day later this year."

"Of course, I am disappointed that Gov. Romney found it necessary to reach his decision," Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., said in Washington. "He has demonstrated again that he is a man of great courage, doing what he personally considers best for the party and the nation."

"Gov. Romney explained it best in his own words," said Democratic State Chairman Sander Levin of Berkeley. "He just did not get the support of the people and so he withdrew as a candidate for President."

"He did not get support because, under close scrutiny of the citizens of New Hampshire and the national press, his proposed answers to pressing issues did not stand up and because his attacks on Democratic programs and accomplishments lacked credibility and substance."

Casualties Rise In Hue Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command reported today that American casualties last week reached the second highest toll of the Vietnam war with 470 men killed and 2,675 wounded.

The U.S. casualties exceeded those of the South Vietnamese forces which reported 434 government troops killed, 1,532 wounded and 135 missing or captured.

Both tolls were for the week ending last Saturday. Many of the casualties occurred in the heavy fighting in Hue, last city to be still contested, but now in allied hands.

The Communists thrust into Hue after they launched their lunar new year offensive Jan. 30 and 31.

Other allied forces reported 19 killed for a combined total of 923 deaths.

As against this total, allied forces reported killing 5,769 Communist soldiers last week.

The U.S. toll of 470 dead last week was exceeded in the previous week when 543 American servicemen were killed at the height of the February fighting to set a new high for the war.

Last week's total of 2,675 Americans wounded was less than 100 below the war's highest week, the first week in February when 2,757 U.S. troops sustained wounds.

Market Loses Ground Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock Market losses widened in active trading early today.

Declines outnumbered advances by well over 2 to 1. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was down between three and four points.

IBM dropped 7, Burroughs 5, Control Data 4, Scientific Data 4, Ogden Corp. and Republic Corp. 2 each.

A variety of issues bucked the downtrend. Among fractional gainers were General Electric, Homestake, Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, General Foods, High Voltage Engineering, International Harvester and Merck.

Uncertainty continued because of the situation in Vietnam as well as on the domestic economic front. Construction activities, which were at a record last fall, appeared to be slackened, it was reported.

Analysts saw the decline as a resumption of Wednesday's slide, accentuated by the normal Thursday tendency for traders to even up profits and losses prior to a weekend.

Rockefeller Still Waiting For Draft

May 28. As a candidate for the nomination four years ago, Rockefeller won that primary.

An Oregon organization striving to draft Rockefeller stepped up its efforts as Romney withdrew. "It is now imperative that Gov. Rockefeller respond to the draft movements in Oregon and across the country," said William J. Moshofsky, an organizer of that campaign.

Write-In Drive

There is a Rockefeller write-in drive under way in New Hampshire—despite the New Yorker's request that it not be launched—and that effort took fresh impetus from the Romney withdrawal.

Even as Romney's New Hampshire campaign staff began mimeographing letters of thanks to the Michigan governor's supporters, John Beckett, head of the Rockefeller movement, was saying "many of them have been at heart devoted to the eventual candidacy of Gov. Rockefeller."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan said Romney's withdrawal has no effect on his own status—that of a favorite son but not a candidate for the nomination.

Reagan Reaction

Reagan, in Sacramento, said he has seen no evidence that he might face a Republican draft. He said he thinks most Republicans are still undecided about who they want as a White House nominee.

And he said he does not think the governors will unite behind any candidate.

Gov. Norbert T. Tiemann of Nebraska said Republican governors have tried before and failed to reach agreement on a candidate. "I don't think they're going to be able to now," he said.

Amid the echoes of his withdrawal, Romney cheerfully shook hands and chatted at a Wednesday night reception for governors and members of Congress.

Moments after his televised withdrawal statement, Romney was lounging in his hotel room, talking with Michigan congressmen. "I wouldn't have missed it for the world," he said of his futile campaign.

Cost Heavy

It cost $275,000 in New Hampshire alone, covered perhaps 50,000 miles in the United States, took him around the world to confer with foreign leaders.

It ended with his announcement of a decision reached Tuesday night in a room at the Ramada Inn in Boston. There, Romney and a handful of top advisers talked about the race, came to the conclusion it was going nowhere and agreed it was time to quit.

Before dawn, Romney was at work on his withdrawal statement.

Nixon Not Mentioned

"It is clear to me that my candidacy has not won the wide acceptance with rank and file Republicans that I had hoped to achieve," he said.

He said the moment is critical since Republican governors are not likely to be together again before June and "if they are to have the opportunity for meaningful consideration of candidates, it is desirable that they be able to act now or make plans to do so."

"I have reached this decision before the vote in New Hampshire because time is growing short," Romney said.

He never mentioned Nixon, but his move seemed a summons to his fellow governors to go to work for someone other than the former vice president.
